

Ford Sets Off On Chinese Trip; Will Stand Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, setting off on the first leg of his trip to the People's Republic of China, said today he hopes to "foster mutual understanding," but is promising the Chinese that "we will stand for our own views."

In brief remarks at Andrews Air Force Base, Ford expressed thanks that the United States is at peace in Asia and declared, "I begin a mission to Asia to consolidate that peace."

More than 100 persons, including dignitaries of the Chinese liaison office and the embassies of Indonesia and the Philippines, turned out in the cold, clear weather to see the President off. Ford and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, both without coats on the windswept airfield, shook hands and talked with the officials before embarking on the trip.

As he departed on the first long flight of his 10-day trip, Ford indirectly appeared to acknowledge he does not expect the United States and China to see eye to eye on key issues.

But he said "stability in Asia and international security benefit from the new relationship of mutual respect that we are developing."

The President, accompanied by wife Betty and daughter Susan, was bound first for Fairbanks, Alaska, and an inspection tour of an outlying construction site along the trans-Alaska oil pipeline.

After an overnight stop in Anchorage, they will leave for Peking, arriving Monday after a brief refueling stop near Tokyo.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, a principal architect of the 1971 arrangement that re-established official contact between the United States and China, was flying with Ford.

Referring to his scheduled stops in Indonesia and the Philippines, the President said, "As I did last year on my visits to Japan and the Republic of Korea, I will reaffirm America's undiminished interest in the security and well-being of Asia. That vast region is vital to us and to the world."

In references to the four days he will spend in Peking next week, Ford said, "We will stand on our own views, as we always have. But we will seek — in the American tradition — to foster mutual understanding."

In advance of the trip, U.S. officials said that "no spectacular announcements" should be expected from the Peking talks. But a senior American official, who declined to be identified, said the President's conferences could contribute to continued forward progress in normalizing relations between the two countries.

Any firm agreement on further steps to settle American-Chinese differences over the status of Taiwan were ruled out.

The senior official said "it would be a most unusual occurrence" if Chairman Mao Tse Tung failed to receive Ford in Peking, but said no meeting between the two leaders is scheduled.

The official said Premier Chou en-Lai, who dealt most closely with resigned President Richard M. Nixon during his 1972 visit to China, had been unable to meet foreign visitors since July. He said a Ford-Chou meeting was unlikely although it was not ruled out.

The official said most of Ford's dealings will be with Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-Ping, who is widely viewed as the acting day-to-day leader of the Chinese government and as probable successor to Mao.

In Fairbanks, Ford planned a speech on Alaska's potential contribution to meeting U.S. energy needs, as well as remarks about U.S. relations with nations in the Pacific area. The President will attend a birthday dinner tonight in Anchorage for Sen. Ted Stevens, R-Alaska.

Ohio GOP Flush; Democrats In Red

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Republicans listed cash balances totaling more than $146,000 Friday while the Ohio Democratic Party reported $875 and said it had debts totaling more than $108,000.

The figures were contained in reports filed with Secretary of State Ted W. Brown under a state requirement affecting political organizations and candidates whose committees have not disbanded.

Included were reports of the Ohio Republican Finance Committee which listed a balance as of Oct. 31 of $129,417.95, and the Republican State Central and Executive Committee which reported $17,010.64.

The deadline for filing the reports was 4 p.m. Friday.

In most cases, the reports were separate and apart from those due later this month showing contributions and expenditures involved in the Nov. 4 election.

Organizations that worked for or against ballot issues including Gov. James A. Rhodes' four ill-fated constitutional amendments, have until 45 days after the election to file reports — in this case until Dec. 19.

Among other reports filed prior to Friday's deadline were those showing the Ohioans for Gilligan committee with a balance of $4,318.28, and the Rhodes for Governor Committee with $86,676.73. Each said the money would be used to pay any outstanding debts and for possible future campaigns.

Otherwise, Democratic Atty. Gen. William J. Brown's committee said it has $39,770 in the reserve, and the committee for State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson, also a Democrat, listed $13,400. Democratic Treasurer Gertrude W. Donahy's committee said it had $3,451.89.

Democratic Lt. Gov. Richard F. Celeste's committee listed a debt of $15,403 — most of it ($13,000) in the form of an unpaid loan from Dennis and Elizabeth Heffernan of Washington, D.C.

Filings by other groups, (with) balances set aside for future campaigns, included:

The Ohio House GOP Campaign Committee, $22,904.33; the Republican Legislative TeeOff Committee, $15,771.13; the Republican (State) Senate Committee, $1,311.80, the Committee for the Election of Democratic Legislators, $6,295.65; the Ohio Bankers Political Campaign Committee, $7,764.87, and the Ohio Realtors Political Action Committee, $71,553.71.

Chicago Judge Given Nod By Ford

Stevens Court Choice

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee is expected to quickly schedule hearings on President Ford's nomination of Judge John Paul Stevens of Chicago to fill the vacancy on the Supreme bench.

Immediate reaction from committee members to the nomination of the 55-year-old judge was limited because many lawmakers said they knew nothing of Stevens' background.

Man Dies Result Of Accident

A 71-year-old Kingston man died 10:50 p.m. Wednesday at the Ross County Medical Center, where he was being treated for injuries sustained in a two-car accident occurring 2:40 p.m. Nov. 16. His death raised Pickaway County's fatal accidents to 16 for 1975.

Dead In

The Rev. Elmer Barnhart sustained head and chest injuries in the accident occurring at the intersection State Route 159 and Hayesville-Adelphi Road.

In the original investigation, Barnhart, westbound on Hayesville-Adelphi Road, apparently failed to observe an auto traveling on Route 159, driven by Colin Hill, 34, Route 1, Lyndon, and pulled onto 159 striking Hill's auto. Both autos came to rest in a field.

Transported to the Medical Center by the Kingston Squad, Barnhart was admitted to the hospital where he died as a result of a heart attack suffered in the accident. He was pronounced dead by Dr. G. H. Wood.

Born April 14, 1909 in Ross County, he was the son of Amos and Susan Kearns Barnhart.

His wife, Glenna Rutter Barnhart, preceded him in death, May 10, 1975.

Survivors include, two daughters, Miss Marie Ann Barnhart, Kingston; Mrs. Fred (Dorothy) Rittenhouse, Chillicothe; two sons, Walter of Florida and Russell of Xenia; two stepsons, Joseph Krafthefer, Laurelville; Albert Krafthefer, Route 4, Chillicothe; 21 grandchildren; 17 great-grandchildren; five sisters, Mrs. Ralph (Effie) Fink, Route 4, Chillicothe; Goldie Rittinger, Nellie Strong, Mrs. Luther (Stella) Knece and Mrs. Hobart (Grace) Muntz, all of Chillicothe; one brother, Lewis Barnhart, Chillicothe.

The funeral service will be 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Hill Funeral Home, Kingston, with the Rev. Woodrow Trainer, officiating. Burial will be in the Hallsville Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home today.

Ford, in announcing late Friday his selection of Stevens as successor to retired Justice William O. Douglas, said Stevens has had an outstanding career in practicing and teaching law as well as on the federal bench.

Stevens appeared before reporters in Chicago shortly after the President announced the nomination. He refused all comment beyond reading a brief statement.

"If the Senate finds my qualifications acceptable, I will begin the new assignment as expeditiously as possible and will do my utmost to discharge the responsibilities of the new office in a manner consistent with the finest traditions of a great institution," Stevens said in his statement.

"In all events, I will do everything in my power to render the best possible judicial service of which I am capable. I thank the President for his expression of confidence in me," he said.

Stevens was confirmed by the Senate in 1970 as a judge of the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals serving Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin.

His nomination at that time by former President Richard M. Nixon stirred no controversy that committee aides could recall.

Stevens' nomination is expected to receive especially thorough scrutiny from the panel since the vacancy left by the Douglas resignation could tip the court's liberal-conservative balance. Those who are familiar with Stevens' decisions say he would most likely be a centrist justice who would swing most often to the conservative side.

"Judge Stevens is held in the highest esteem by his colleagues in the legal profession and the judiciary," the President said.

He called the nomination of a Supreme Court justice "one of the most important decisions a President has to make" and said that before making a selection he sought "the views of a wide range of Americans in the legal profession and in both public and private life."

Ford had promised to consider naming a woman to the post. There has never been a woman Supreme Court Justice. First Lady Betty Ford, who had hoped her husband would name a woman, said after the President's announcement that she was "disappointed."

But Mrs. Ford said she felt "confident that he picked the most capable and best prepared person."

HERE COMES SANTA — Santa Claus made his yearly visit to Circleville Friday during the gala parade sponsored by the Circleville Jaycees and Downtown Merchants. He promptly retired to Santa's House on W. Main St., where he was greeted by a throng of youngsters — all who had many suggestions for Christmas gifts.

Atom Plant Security Deficient

WASHINGTON (AP) — Terrorists, foreign agents and organized crime figures theoretically are capable of attacking nuclear power plants and releasing deadly radioactivity or stealing weapon components, according to a report prepared for the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Publicity about U.S. intelligence operations has enhanced the capability of the Soviet bloc "to conduct sabotage operations against licensed nuclear facilities . . .," the report warned.

It was prepared by a panel of 10 persons familiar with terrorism or nuclear activity and assembled by the Mitre Corp., a research organization with offices near Washington.

The report recommends that the commission, which licenses atomic operations, take steps to increase the security of nuclear facilities.

It said such groups as the Irish Republican Army, Palestinian guerrillas, or Latin American revolutionaries might sabotage a nuclear plant as vengeance or take control of a plant, holding it "hostage to destruction unless certain demands were met."

"The acquisition of special nuclear materials by a terrorist group would give it a power of blackmail over the world at large, and the United States in particular, without precedent," the report said.

It said that members of organized crime groups also have shown the ability to carry out the "patient, methodical work" needed to penetrate seemingly secure facilities. Terrorists, foreign nations and organized crime elements might work together to sabotage a nuclear operation, it said.

The study also warned that the intelligence network of China should not be underestimated regarding nuclear plants. "It is possible that China will become a much more serious threat to licensed nuclear facilities within the next 5 or 10 years," it said.

Listing points in the nuclear chain that are susceptible to sabotage, the report said "significant radioactivity" could be released during fuel reprocessing, waste storage or transportation of nuclear wastes.

It said plutonium could be stolen, diverted or released during transport, storage, reprocessing or while in use at nuclear plants.

It warned the commission that would be saboteurs would attempt to learn as much as possible about a plant's engineering and security details; would attempt to recruit an accomplice on the security force, and might attempt to kidnap an employee or a member of an employee's family to force cooperation.

Winter Storm Splits In 2, Heads East

By The Associated Press

The winter storm system that has dumped heavy snows in the Southwest and the Rockies split into two parts today. One drifted eastward through the central and southern Plateau while the other headed through Wyoming for the Dakotas.

At least 22 persons were stranded by a sudden snowstorm in the mountains 50 miles east of Los Angeles. Some were stranded without food. Others were missing in a private aircraft.

The Federal Aviation Administration said a single-engine plane with at least three persons aboard was missing in the mountains northeast of Big Bear after the pilot encountered bad weather and decided to turn around.

The other missing included nine Orange County, Calif., teenagers stranded in the San Jacinto Mountains and 10 persons snowed in at a ranger station in Santa Rosa Mountain. Most had been stranded since Thursday and were out of food, officers said.

Rescue operations were hampered by poor visibility.

Heavy snow warnings were posted over much of Wyoming, western and central Colorado and north-central and western New Mexico.

Snow fell over the northeastern Plateau to the northern Rockies into North Dakota and the southern Plateau and southern Rockies.

Winter storm watches were posted in eastern and northern Arizona, Utah, south central and eastern Montana, North Dakota, northwest Minnesota and western and north central South Dakota.

Senior Scholars Win Competition

SCOTT JONES AND KERRY STRAUCH

The senior class of TVHS has two award-winning scholars. They are Scott Jones and Kerry Strauch. Kerry won second place in Pickaway County on the Ohio University American history contest. He answered 51 questions right out of 79. The final competition was on Nov. 14. It was all essays and Kerry thought "it was really hard."

When asked why he liked history so well, Kerry replied, "History can always be applied to the present.

People can learn from the past experiences of others." Chess club, Latin club, and National Honor Society are some of the many activities in which Kerry is involved.

Scott received an Honorable Mention for his efforts on the National Merit Scholarship exam that he took last fall. He correctly answered 94 per cent of the total number of questions.

Hunting and reading are Scott's favorite hobbies. After graduation, he plans to become a veterinarian.

Thanksgiving Assembly Is Inspirational

Thanksgiving assembly was held second period on Nov. 26. Brad Sherman, president of the student council, led the pledge of allegiance.

Director Miss Darlene Freeman and the choir presented four songs: "The Star Spangled Banner," "The Dream is America," "Bringing in the Sheaves," and "Everytime I Feel the Spirit." "The Dream is America," is a song that J.C. Penney's is sponsoring for the Bicentennial year.

Phil Forsythe, history teacher, told exactly what he was thankful for. He related his thankfulness of the love of Christ as the most important one.

The examples he used were true stories. The first one was about how his sister was healed from polio. The next highlight was a vivid story of how a football team earned a superb victory over a tough team because of faith. Last, but not least was about how Christ's love is free of charge.

ADC Errors Could Cut Welfare Pay

The Ohio Department of Public Welfare has sent a request to all recipients on the Aid for Dependent Children (ADC) program to help reduce errors that could result in cuts in welfare payments.

The request was made on cards mailed Friday with December ADC checks, sent to about 180,000 cases involving some 560,000 recipients.

"It is a direct message," said Raymond F. McKenna, state welfare director. "We are simply asking the welfare recipients themselves to help us cut the error rate. We have told them that failure to cut the error rate could result in a reduction in payments to welfare clients."

McKenna referred to a federal requirement that error rates be cut to three per cent for ineligible and five per cent for overpayments. He said a recent check shows that the Ohio error rate is running at about ten per cent for ineligible and 11 per cent for overpayments. This compares to 13 per cent for ineligible and 14 per cent for overpayments during the first six-month period of 1975.

"We are improving but not enough," McKenna said. He gave credit to a 100 per cent case review conducted by county welfare departments. This review resulted in dropping approximately 32,000 recipients from ADC rolls during the past summer. "It has only resulted in a drop of about three per cent in the total error rate, however," McKenna said.

He said the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare threatens to impose sanctions in 1976 on all states which fail to reduce case errors to the recommended federal level. These penalties could amount to somewhere between $10 and $20 million for Ohio. Such cuts in federal allotments could make it necessary to reduce all ADC grants to recipients in Ohio, McKenna said.

JUDGE OUR "YEARLING" ON PERFORMANCE

Like most good judges of horseflesh, you'd probably rather believe your eyes than your ears. Even though your neighbors may tell you great things about Purina Big U, we hope you'll judge our "yearling" horse ration on performance.

True, many of our horsemen friends have fed Big U to their foals because their neighbors recommended it. But now they feed it because they know it helps produce bigger, more valuable foals.

If you'd like to give Big U a try, you can choose between two foal growing programs, depending on whether or not you use hay or pasture. Both programs will go far toward building a sounder, well-knit bone structure.

Come in soon and let's figure out the best program for your foals. When you see the growth Big U puts on your foals, you'll judge our "yearling" on performance.

A Page Of Opinion Prefers Anonymity

Has the collapse of governments become such a common occurrence few take note anymore? When the latest victim of ruling to throw in the sponge did so, hardly an eyebrow was lifted.

Possibly it was because the latest victim of ruling instability was San Marino, one of the oldest democracies but also a country many people may have believed existed only in fairy tales. The Republic of San Marino is real enough, although its 23.5 square miles and 19,621 inhabitants earn it little more attention than a speck on the map.

One of the few claims to fame San Marino has accumulated was the election of a communist government a few years back, making it the only Soviet ally in the West. That aberration was short-lived, possibly because the residents of San Marino, like those of Monaco and Liechtenstein, prefer anonymity to big power politics.

Do You Read Me?

By PHYLLIS BATELLE

NEW YORK (KFS) — American children do not read as well as they did a decade ago. They do not verbalize as well. Their math scores are steadily falling. In creative writing, their sentences are shorter — but the style is not so much an imitation of the terse literary giants, as an intimation that they don't really have much to say on paper.

Why there has been a dismal 12-year decline in scores recorded on the Scholastic Aptitude Tests (used by many colleges to determine applicants' abilities) is a sticky question with multiple choice answers.

Poor teachers? Overcrowded schools? Television? Working mothers? Overpermissive, undercaring home environment? Changes in the socio-economic background of pupils being tested? Others?

Pick your answer, and you'll probably be at least partially correct. There are no losers among the second guessers; the only losers are the kids. While the College Entrance Examination Board forms a "blue-ribbon panel" to investigate the causes for the drop in student scores since 1963, other groups have been diligently working to find ways to help the students overcome their brain-lag. The concentration, appropriately, is on reading because this is the most important skill for coping with life and learning.

A Vicious Cycle

If a child cannot read successfully, he suffers in all of his other subjects — including even those that lead to skilled manual work. As educator T. H. Bell told a reading conference sponsored recently by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare

(HEW): "His teachers will find (the poor reader) harder and harder to reach, and he may drop out of school and fall into the vicious cycle where reading problems trap him into low-paying, unskilled jobs — assuming he can find a job at all."

(H.E.W. announces that American high school graduates now read less well than their counterparts in 12 other countries.)

One of the most highly regarded of many new reading learning systems is a remedial teaching package called "Think." Combining tape cassettes with workbooks and teacher guides, the unique aspect of "Think" is that its materials are real-world oriented and designed to encourage a student to apply reading to logic and everyday situations.

For example, the tapes come equipped with background noises (a la the environment that is comfortable to students who relate poorly to the relative concentrated quiet of the classroom). The sounds of traffic, radio music and other daily background sound effects, keep the cassettes from sounding "sterile" — thus forcing the student to concentrate harder, according to educator theory. In addition, an narrator on the tape periodically reassures the listener with peppy phrases — "that's okay, you can do it" or "stay with it" — in an effort to encourage the student and help break a pattern of accustomed failure.

Sound a little foolish, in this age of noise pollution? Maybe so, but it obviously works with many pupils who've never learned to read because they apparently were fighting the traditional system. At high schools in more than 180 school districts here in the Northeast where "Think" (devised by "Onnovative Science, Inc.," Stamford, Conn.) has been pioneered, reluctant readers have improved their skills dramatically.

At Carle Place High, in Carle Place, N. Y., 19 underachieving students advanced two years in reading and comprehensive skills in a 19-week program. At Troy (N. Y.) High School, 150 remedial 9th graders averaged an increase of 2.4 grade levels in a "Think" pilot program during one school year. A gain of 2.8 grade levels (almost three years of progress) was registered during one term at North Haven (Conn.) High. It works, for several reasons. Most vital may be that the material provided on the cassettes and workbooks contain stories designed to peak student interest — relevant topics such as alcohol, sex, crime, earning a living — and in this way avoids the condemnation often associated with remedial programs.

While the devisers of educational materials are at work to upgrade our downgraded American student output, even charitable organizations are beginning to react. The National Multiple Sclerosis Society, for example, has just launched an "MS READ-A-Thon" program which, if successful, could encourage other crusading groups to copy the technique. On the theory that the more children read, the better and more interested readers they'll become, youngsters are encouraged to tackle books "for the sake of the sick."

The way this program is designed, children across the land between six and 14 make their own commitment to participate in the program," explains Meadowlark Lemon of the Harlem Globetrotters, one of the celebrity chairmen of the project. "They decide how many books they feel they'll be able to read during their local MS chapter's READ-A-Thon. The next step is for them to find sponsors, who can be neighbors, relatives and friends. These people agree to donate a given sum for each book the child reads. This raises funds for Multiple Sclerosis research — and gives a kid a chance to help others while he's helping himself."

The First Motivation

The youngsters can read any type of book they like (short of pornography, of course), and Meadowlark naturally sees a lot of them choosing sports: "Very often, a deep love of sports is the first motivation toward reading for pleasure," he says. But sports or romance, science fiction or poetry, it all adds up to a new experience for thousands of children who never read an extra-scholastic book before — much less felt the satisfaction of contributing to a worthy cause.

Ohio Fatal Accidents Show Drop

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Highway Safety Director Donald D. Cook credits a new attitude by Ohio drivers toward the 55 mile-per-hour speed limit with saving lives the first nine months of the year.

In the first nine months of this year, Cook said, 1,270 persons lost their lives on Ohio highways. "That figure is significantly smaller than the 1,351 deaths recorded for the same period in 1974 and the 1,734 fatalities of 1973," Cook said.

Cook credited Ohio State Highway Patrol enforcement of the 55 m.p.h. limit and what he called "a new, positive attitude on the part of Ohio drivers."

"Many drivers find the 55 mile limit both safe and efficient," Cook said. "They are discovering a slower speed allows a more enjoyable trip."

About nine per cent of the fatal accidents the first nine months of the year involved more than one death, Cook said. Ohio recorded one quintuple death accident, five quadruple death accidents, 14 triple fatality crashes and 75 double death accidents.

The summer brought the most fatal accidents, with 166 in August and 162 in July and more fatal accidents occurred on the weekends than at any other time. Saturday was highdeath day with 272, followed by Friday with 203 and Sunday at 193.

St. Peter in Chains Cathedral in Cincinnati, Ohio, is believed to be the oldest Roman Catholic cathedral in continuous use west of the Alleghenies.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, Nov. 29, the 333rd day of 1975. There are 32 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1760, the French surrendered Detroit to the British at the end of the French and Indian War.

On this date — In 1825, the first Italian opera presented in the United States, Rossini's "Barber of Seville," was performed in New York.

In 1899, the United States, Switzerland and France recognized the Republic of Brazil.

In 1922, archaeologists announced they had found fabulous treasure in the tomb of King Tutankhamen in Egypt.

In 1929, U.S. Navy Lieutenant Commander Richard Byrd radioed that he had made the first flight over the South Pole.

In 1945, the monarchy was abolished in Yugoslavia.

In 1966, President Lyndon Johnson named a commission headed by Earl Warren to investigate the assassination of John Kennedy.

Ten years ago: U.S. Secretary of Defense ended a visit to South Vietnam and said it seemed clear that North Vietnam would raise the level of conflict and that the Vietnamese War would be a long one.

Five years ago: Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev denounced U.S. air raids against North Vietnam as "banditry."

One year ago: One of the world's richest men, oilman H.L. Hunt, died in Dallas at the age of 85.

Today's birthdays: Artist James Rosenquist is 42. Skier Suzanne Chaffe is 29.

Thought for today: Never stand begging for that which you have the power to earn — Miguel Cervantes, Spanish writer, 1547-1616.

Bicentennial footnote: Two-hundred years ago, early in the American Revolution, the Continental Congress in Philadelphia permitted an exporter to ship flour to the Bahamas provided the proceeds of the sale were used to purchase firearms.

New Trial Ordered

ATLANTA (AP) — A panel of three federal judges today ordered a new trial for William A. H. Williams, convicted of extortion in the February 1974 abduction of former Atlanta Constitution Editor Reg Murphy.

The judges said "that the intense pretrial publicity and prejudicial closing argument by the government, operating together, deprived the defendant of a fair trial."

In an opinion written by Judge Homer Thornberry of Austin, Tex., and released in Atlanta, the panel held:

"The Atlanta Constitution and the Journal are the leading newspapers in the metropolitan area and each has a total circulation in excess of 200,000. The two papers are combined in a Sunday edition, and it was here that the Murphy narrative (of his abduction) appeared."

Williams, 35, was sentenced to 40 years in prison after conviction on charges of extortion, using the mail to perpetrate an extortion and using a gun in the commission of a felony.

Murphy, 41, who was held captive for 49 hours before being released unharmed, is now editor and publisher of the San Francisco Examiner.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

It is now possible to look directly into the knee to make a definite diagnosis of disease and disorders that exist within it.

This is known as arthroscopy. Through a fine viewing instrument almost every detail of the inside anatomy of the knee can be seen.

Through this instrument, the doctor can inspect the cartilage and the ligaments. Arthritis, tears of the ligaments and other disorders can be diagnosed with an accuracy of more than 90 per cent.

Children who are born deaf are now given some form of treatment as soon as the diagnosis is established.

At the Lexington School for the Deaf, in New York City, efforts are made to start auditory training even at the age of one year.

Special effort is devoted to this early training of the deaf infant, in association with the training of the parents. With this combined approach, there is a greater possibility that children will develop language skills within the limits of their hearing problems.

The Lexington School for the Deaf has for years been one of the pioneering institutions in America for the total physical and psychological rehabilitation of the deaf child.

Another piece in the jigsaw puzzle of psoriasis seems to have been put in place.

Dr. Ernst H. Beutner, of the State University of Buffalo, N. Y. and Dr. Stefania Jablonska, of the Warsaw Medical School in Poland, have advanced a new theory about the mysterious cause of psoriasis.

They believe that special antibodies tend to break through into the lower layers of the skin and set up a complex series of chemical reactions responsible for psoriasis.

It is believed that this new contribution may bring better insight into the mysteries that have resisted scientific attacks on this problem.

Postal Service Sees Yule Mail Being Moved Quickly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service, which has posted new limitations on overtime and hiring extra workers because of its $7-million-a-day deficit, says it still can handle what may be its busiest holiday mail season.

More than 9 billion pieces of mail are expected to move through the nation's post offices between today and Christmas Eve.

An additional burden could be mass mailings by businesses in advance of the Dec. 28 increase in postal rates.

Firm Plans Big Complex

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Austin Co. of Cleveland will plan, design and manage construction of a $130 million aircraft maintenance and manufacturing complex near Athens, Greece, the firm reports.

A spokesman for the engineering and construction company said the complex will be located at Tanagra, 42 miles northwest of Athens, adjacent to a Greek Air Force base.

A statement by the Greek government in announcing the contract Wednesday said the project will create an industry that will enable Greece ultimately to become independent of foreign resources in the aviation field.

Other U.S. firms involved in the project include Lockheed Aircraft International A.G., a subsidiary of Lockheed Aircraft Corp.; International Defense and Public Systems Corp. of Baltimore, Md.; a subsidiary of Westinghouse Electric Corp.; and General Electric Technical Services Co., Washington, D.C.

Taxes Take Bigger Bite

CHICAGO (AP) — State and local taxes paid per person across the nation increased in fiscal 1974 by an average of $41, a survey released today showed.

The state-local tax bill increased in every state except Connecticut, where it dropped from an average of $727 per person in fiscal 1973 to $689, the survey by Commerce Clearing House Inc. showed.

The average per capita tax across the nation was $618.

New York had the highest average state-local tax load at $952 per person, the first time the $900 level has been surpassed in any state, and Alabama the lowest with $383.

Commerce Clearing House based its survey on figures supplied by the Census Bureau. Fiscal years begin on July 1.

The median per person tax load was $573, an increase of $59 over the median for fiscal 1973. The median state was Kansas.

Students Study Problems Of Blind

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Three students at St. Mary's College here say they have gained a better understanding of the hardships blind people endure.

The three, all sophomores majoring in special education, partook in an experiment designed to test their ability to function normally while blindfolded.

One student said she was constantly angry and depressed over petty matters and found it hard to finish the experiment. Another said her friends began treating her as if she were deaf. And the third said people around campus treated her like a freak.

Facility Used For Hard Studies

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Six national organizations representing governors, state legislators, mayors and city councilmen have assumed control of the Academy of Contemporary Problems for use in studying public problems.

Besides conference rooms, lodging and food service, the academy will provide help in designing meetings to produce concrete results, academy President Ralph R. Widner said.

The Council of State Governments, the International City Management Association, the National Association of Counties, the National Conference of State Legislatures, the National League of Cities and the U.S. Conference of Mayors will use the facility.

Moving Vets Should Notify VA Office

One out of every five among the 214 million Americans changes his address by moving each year, and at least half of these moves are potential problems for the Veterans Administration, explained L. M. Merritt, director of the Cleveland VA Regional Office.

Almost half these people are veterans, their dependents or their survivors, and the continuing migration can produce massive headaches at Veterans Administration records centers, he said.

Hocking Hills State Park is made up of 9,198 acres of Hocking State Forest, an area of picturesque scenery notable for the widest variety of trees and plants found on any Ohio landscape.

To avoid delays in benefits checks and confusion in other veterans records, the director urges all veterans or others entitled to VA benefits to promptly notify it of any changes of address.

With files on more than 29 million living veterans, duplications of thousands of names are common and an incorrect address only serves to increase the possibility of error or delay of processing claims, Merritt said. There are 1.5 million veterans in Ohio.

Even if a veteran is not presently receiving benefits, he pointed out that it will save time and eliminate possible error should they be sought in the future if the veterans' records always reflect his correct address.

In the case of veterans currently receiving benefits, the new address and the date of the move should be provided VA as far in advance as possible, the director said.

Miss Eleanor Craig Speaks Of 'New Nuclear Odds' For Monday Club Program

Monday Club met Nov. 24th in the Pickaway County Historical Society meeting room. Mrs. Rex Wood, president, opened the meeting with remarks concerning the celebration of Thanksgiving. She read from a very old publication of the "Fireman Fund's Record" concerning the grateful and thankful man.

Miss Eleanor Craig, librarian of the Pickaway County District Public Library, was introduced as speaker for the meeting by Mrs. O. C. West, reporter for the evening. Miss Craig's subject was "New Nuclear Odds." This topic was to be oriented to the future of science and philosophy in the third century of the American Republic.

Miss Craig gave a magnificent and profound study of philosophy and science as they have grown hand-in-hand through the ages. While Socrates and Plato, the most famed philosophers, concerned themselves with wisdom, the scientists were concerned themselves with the nature of the world around them. Pithagoras was the first person to talk about atoms. In the fifth century B. C., Leukippos and Demokritos laid down the main outlines of the sound atomic theory, but it wasn't accepted until 1803 A. D. Our present age is usually referred to as the Atomic Age, but this is a misnomer. We have been in the atomic age for thousands of years. We are now in the Nuclear Age.

The nuclear age has been developed because of the highly perfected modern computers. This age also carries with it the changing or rather brooding philosophy. It has brought about psychic research with emphasis on extra-sensory perception, telepathy and clairvoyance. It encompasses many other things such as psychic healing and psychic surgery. Many are turning to Transcendental Meditation and other faiths or beliefs. According to a former astronaut, Edgar D. Mitchell, the so-called Godless technology and materialistic science seems to be leading us to the rediscovery of the essential unity of science and religion.

Miss Craig stated that science will continue to dominate the future and we can be certain the future will be utterly fantastic. The critical reading of serious science-fiction is essential training for anyone wishing to look to the years ahead. The great lesson of our age is that if something is possible in theory and no fundamental scientific laws oppose its realization, sooner or later it will be achieved. Roger Bacon who lived in the 13th Century wrote, "The real future is not logically foreseeable."

Torrid Foul Shooting Gives Vikings Win Over West Jefferson, 78-70

HEADED FOR THE NET — David Schiff (34) of Teays Valley launches a shot toward paydirt as his teammates move into position to cover any rebound. It was not necessary as the ball rippled the cords for two points. Other Vikings in the picture are Mark Messick (42), Tim Tosca (10) and Rusty Rathburn (22).

A LOT OF VIKINGS — A West Jefferson cager is vastly outnumbered as he battles for a rebound in the game at Teays Valley. Jeff Cauger (32) of Teays Valley goes up for the ball while his teammates Rusty Rathburn (22), Mark Messick (42) and an unidentified Blue and Gold cager move into position to give aid. Teays Valley downed the Rough Riders, 78-70.

By BILL McGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

When you shoot 22 out of 25 from the foul line for an amazing 88 per cent you are going to win ball games — Well, that's just what Teays Valley did Friday night as they downed visiting West Jefferson, 78-70, to even their season record at 1-1.

The Rough Riders held the advantage from the floor as they netted 30 of 55 for 55 per cent while the Vikings hit 28 of 59 for 48 per cent. But it couldn't offset the foul shooting effort of the Vikings, led by Tim Tosca with 10 of 11 attempts.

It started out like the Vikings were going to leave the Rough Riders eating trail dust but the boys from West Jeff battled back and even took a two point lead in a second quarter that saw the score tied three times in the period.

But the Blue and Gold cagers had it when they needed it, and despite the fact that West Jefferson narrowed the Viking lead to two points midway through the final period, coach Bob Hoover's cagers were up to the task and finished strong to take a 78-70 decision over a bunch of scrappy Rough Riders.

Ken Anderson Still Question For Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Bengals, who have been very good when Ken Anderson's passing is shredding defenses, may find out how good they are without him Sunday against the Houston Oilers staunch defense.

Anderson's availability has been clouded all week by a severe chest bruise, leaving the Bengals with the possibility of going into the crucial intra-division struggle with little-used John Reaves as their only quarterback.

The game pits a pair of divisional rivals who need a victory to keep playoff hopes burning. Both are licking their wounds after ego deflating losses.

The Bengals, 8-2, lost Anderson early in the second half against Cleveland and faltered, squandering a 20-9 lead to lose 35-23. Houston absorbed a 32-9 pounding from division-leading Pittsburgh.

Houston, 7-3, defeated Cincinnati twice a year ago and appeared headed for a victory last month until Anderson rallied the Bengals to a 21-19 victory.

Anderson went through his first regular workout of the week Friday and was encouraged with his progress. "It's getting better every day but it's still a question of how it feels Sunday," he said.

Coach Paul Brown said the final decision on Anderson's status will be decided by the team physician.

Viking Grapplers Host Groveport

Teays Valley's wrestling team will open the season 6:30 p.m. today when the Vikings host Groveport in a reserve and varsity match.

The Viking squad is coached by Floyd Gray with Roger Patterson assistant coach.

The Vikings opened with three quick baskets against the man to man defense of West Jeff but the Rough Riders switched into a zone which gave the Vikings a little more trouble.

With 1:39 left in the first canto the game was tied at 12 all but the Vikings got a basket from Tosca and a bucket and foul from Jeff Cauger to grab a 17-14 edge at the buzzer.

In the second frame, West Jeff took a 23-21 lead at the 5:11 mark but two quick buckets by David Schiff put the Vikings back in front and although it got real close several times, the Blue and Gold never trailed again.

They held a 36-30 margin when the halftime break came and were leading 55-47 when the third frame ended.

West Jeff cut the Viking lead to 61-59 with 3:59 left in the game but the calm Vikings hit four buckets and netted nine fouls to nab the victory.

Tim Tosca led the Teays Valley lads with 24 points, Mark Messick added 18, Jeff Cauger hit for 14, Rusty Rathburn tallied 12, David Schiff netted eight and Charles Morrison added two.

Kris Modlich was the big gun for West Jeff as he took honors for the night with 27 points, Matt Timmons fired 16, Vince Baker and Ross Shipley each had eight, Don Osborne netted five while Brad Smith, Ken Miller and Tim Castle each had two.

Teays Valley led in the rebound department with 29 while West Jeff grabbed 25. Messick and Schiff did the heavy board work for the Vikings while Timmons was top man for West Jefferson.

In the turnover department it was about even with the Vikings misplaying the ball 18 times and West Jeff 19.

The Vikings also took the reserve game, 39-26 as West Jeff didn't get on the board until 5:13 of the second frame.

Rick Queen led Teays Valley with 15 points, Mike Fisher added 10, Ron Little had eight, Duane Keller netted four and Dwayne Hettinger hit for two.

Teays Valley will be back in action Friday when the Vikings travel to Hamilton Township to meet the Rangers.

Amanda-Clearcreek Tops Eagles, 86-70

After a tight first period, the Aces of Amanda-Clearcreek began to roll and cruised to an 86-70 victory over visiting New Albany Friday night.

New Albany jumped out to an 8-2 lead in the first period but the Aces refused to panic and cut away at the margin until Amanda-Clearcreek had a narrow 18-16 lead at the buzzer.

They upped the count to 47-30 at the half and were out in front 68-50 when the third canto concluded.

Cloyce Hartley was the big gun for the Aces with 24 points, Jim Smith netted 18, Jeff Bethel hit for 15, Russ Foster had eight, Doug Starner and Jim Destadio each fired six, Mike Nye had four, Tom Hinton tallied three and Will Crites had two.

Stewart led New Albany with 22 markers, Clark tallied 17, Hatfield had 10, Mogan and Wharton each garnered six, while Lindenbolt, Kellett and Foley each had two.

The Aces hit 33 of 66 from the field for 50 per cent and added 20 of 31 from the charity stripe for 77 per cent.

New Albany shot 30 per cent from the field and 36 per cent from the foul line which certainly didn't help their cause.

New Albany pulled down 56 rebounds to 45 for Amanda-Clearcreek Hartley, Smith and Foster were strong on the boards for the Aces.

Bulls Stop Milwaukee; Win 89-69

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Bulls finally came up for air and Coach Dick Motta was extremely happy to get a fresh breath.

Choking on a nine-game losing streak, the Bulls broke out of their depressing rut with an 89-69 National Basketball Association victory over the Milwaukee Bucks Friday night.

"I am certainly not beating the drums about winning any title," said Motta. "Right now all I want to do is make the playoffs since we are in a hole so far."

"For us it's got to be the same old story—getting inside, grabbing the offensive board and playing tough defense. I am very agreeable to letting the other team shoot from the outside because we'll win more than we'll lose."

Chicago center Tom Boerwinkle also was happy to see a little sunshine in Chicago.

"This is the best game we've played because everyone was moving," he said. "I know there's been a lot of pressure on me because I'm supposed to be a good passer and not a good scorer. But maybe we'll get rolling now."

Cold 1st Quarter Defeats Mustangs

A cold first quarter in which Westfall found the lid on the bucket and managed to shoot 23 per cent from the floor was too much for the Mustangs to overcome as they dropped an 85-67 decision to Zane Trace Friday night on the Pioneers' court.

The Pioneers were as hot in the first period, hitting seven out of their first 10 shots, as Westfall was frigid and Trace managed to build up a 29-8 lead at the first period buzzer.

Westfall battled back but was unable to overcome the big lead. They made some adjustments in the third period that saw the Mustangs cut the Pioneers lead from 23 points to 12 in less than three minutes but the cagers from Zane Trace met the challenge and took the victory.

Trace led 47-24 at halftime, 64-45 at the conclusion of the third canto and ended with an 85-67 victory for their third straight win of the year.

Outside of the bad first quarter by the Mustangs in which they also turned the ball over eight times, it was an even ball game the rest of the way home.

Kevin Reid was the top point getter for the Mustangs with 16, Chris Riddle netted 14, Mack Dick hooped 11, John Long fired eight, Jeff Karshner had seven, Terry Hanson added six, Bill Hamman tallied four and Bill Evans had one.

Jeff Wright of Zane Trace led all scorers with 25 big ones, Delbert Tatman hit for 20, Charles Thurston added 18, Brian Kerns tallied eight, French had five, Street picked up four, Britton and Whaley each netted two and Seymour fired one.

The Pioneers hit 32 of 74 from the field for 43 per cent and converted 21 of 34 free throws.

Westfall connected on 29 of 76 from the hardwoods for 38 per cent and managed to hit nine of 15 from the charity stripe.

Jeff Karshner had 14 rebounds for the Mustangs, Kevin Reid grabbed eight, Bill Hamman nabbed six while Mack Dick and John Long pulled down five.

In the turnover department, Westfall had 17 and Zane Trace had 14.

Zane Trace also won the reserve game by a score of 41-30.

Westfall is now 1-1 and will host Paint Valley Friday night.

FOR SUNDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): You are due for a unique surprise now, or soon, unless you work at odds with congenial influences. Wrap up duties without delay; save time for rest and relaxation.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): A fine day for artistic and social interests. In all things, capitalize on your finesse and general know-how.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Mercury influences stimulate your ingenuity, quick wit and perceptiveness. You should give a fine performance. DO — because others are depending on you.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Favorable influences. Be eager to improve all situations, particularly in "small" details, so often overlooked or considered unimportant.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): A fine day for personal betterment, social affairs and long-range planning. Shun a tendency to "keep up with the Joneses," however.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Stellar influences more auspicious than they may seem at first. Be consistent in effort and not timid about advancing new ideas or plans, and all should go well.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Splendid influences today! Especially favored: creativity, originality. An excellent period for making new friends, cementing old ties.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Planetary aspects suggest that you train thoughts along constructive lines as you move discreetly. Penetrate below the surface to learn the full truth in all situations.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Care needed today in experimentation, hastily contrived messages and writings; also transportation. Reason things out to a logical conclusion, then initiate appropriate measures.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Take constructive action on a project you may have had in mind for some time. With good planning, you should be able to put it over now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Good stellar influences govern new projects as well as everyday routine. Cooperate with those who have both know-how and integrity. An excellent day for doing well.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Not everything will go as you planned now, but remain steadfast. Your keen mind and innate common sense should see you through — and well.

YOU BORN TODAY are an exceptionally versatile and ambitious individual, with abilities along both business and creative lines. Where the arts are concerned, music or literature would prove the most satisfying outlets for your talents and it is quite possible that if you do not choose either as a career, you will take up one or the other as an avocation. Business-wise, you can sell, promote and handle money successfully for others as banker or broker. You could also do exceptionally well in the legal field. High Court Backs Judge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Supreme Court let stand today a lower court decision that said, in effect, that three generations of the same family living in one home violated an ordinance limiting one dwelling to a single family.

In the case at hand, Inez Moore of East Cleveland appealed after being cited by housing inspectors because her sons, Dale and John, were living in her home along with their sons, Dale Jr. and John Jr. The city contended that the occupants of the home comprised more than one family under its ordinance.

Mrs. Moore was convicted in East Cleveland Municipal Court, sentenced to five days in jail, and ordered to pay a $25 fine. The 8th District Court of Appeals affirmed the decision, saying in part that the defendant failed to present any evidence to support her claim that the ordinance violated the equal protection and due process clauses of the constitution.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

10th Annual Chitlin Strut Set In South Carolina Town

SALLEY, S.C. (AP) — The odor of chitlins wafted over Salley today as residents prepared to serve 20,000 to 25,000 visitors expected to show up for the 10th annual Chitlin Strut.

What do chitlins smell like? "They smell like they sound — kind of rough," says Terry McMillan, who is responsible for preparation of 6,000 pounds of the hog intestines.

Does that mean bad? "If you can think of anything that smells so bad that it would take about a week for it to wear away, then it's that bad," he said.

That bad, huh? "It's a good thing you can't smell over the telephone," he told an interviewer.

The first time Salley, population 570, held the Chitlin Strut, only about 500 persons turned out. Last year more than 20,000 came. Proceeds from the strut benefit fire fighting and other town activities.

The Chitlin Strut includes a parade with U.S. Rep. Butler Derrick, D-S.C., as grand marshal; a speech by Thomas Kline of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and a night of country music.

McMillan says he doesn't remember how long he has been cooking the chitlins. The recipe, he says, calls for boiling hog intestines until they are tender, slicing them into strips three or four inches long, and then frying them in flour. Toss in a little salt and pepper.

Theft Reports Investigated By Police

Circleville Police are investigating two theft reports, one which may have occurred nearly three months ago.

Thomas Lute, Akron, told officers that two propane tanks and a regulator valve were taken from his wrecked motor home, which was parked in the Harden Storage Lot since the Sept. 6 accident that incapacitated the vehicle.

Lute apparently discovered the theft Friday, when he checked the vehicle before it was to be hauled to a wrecking yard.

The tanks are valued at $20 each and the regulator is listed at $10.

Maynard Fullen, 345 E. Union St., told police that thieves took a tool box and tools from a storage shed behind his house sometime last week.

The box, valued at $5, contained $85 worth of tools including a socket set, pipe wrench, crescent wrench, and smaller tools.

Deadline Nears

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cities and towns that want to be designated bicentennial communities may have only two or three months left to apply, says the Ohio American Revolution Bicentennial Advisory Commission. The commission says it does not believe applications will be accepted in Washington after March 1976 and that the paperwork should reach the nation's capital by Feb. 15.

The taste must be worth putting up with the odor because McMillan says folks come from all over.

McMillan, who began the cooking Thursday, is chef for the annual event because "I just sorta enjoy cooking."

Others direct the parade or the musical entertainment, but he'd rather cook the chitlins, odor or not.

He regrets he could only get 6,000 pounds this year. "I had hoped we would have at least 10,000 pounds, but we couldn't quite get them."

"In other years we just boiled 'em on Friday, but with this amount we had to start early."

A caterer will bring 4,000 pounds of fried chicken and about the same amount of barbecued pork. Despite all the food, Mayor Jack Able says the Chitlin Strut always sells out.

If you can't get here on time to get something to eat, drive through anyway. McMillan says the odor lingers around Salley for a week or so after the strut.

Corwin Street School Celebrates Thanksgiving

THANKSGIVING PROGRAM — The sixth grade class at Corwin Street School presented a Thanksgiving program Wednesday to the other students in the school. The whole week before Thanksgiving was devoted to the celebration as a bicentennial project. Teachers in all six grades at Corwin worked together on the activities.

The students of Corwin Street School spent Thanksgiving week working on various projects connected with the first Thanksgiving in this bicentennial year.

On Monday, Mrs. Barb Tootle's second grade and Mrs. Susan Miga's third grade went on a field trip to Pennington Bread Factory in Washington C. H. to see how bread is made. The trip was followed up on Tuesday with a breadmaking project in the rooms.

Horn books, like those used by early American students, were made by Mrs. Evalena Wolford's fourth grade. Mrs. Doris Cloud's first grade made clay dishes after learning how dishes were made long ago.

On Tuesday, Ty Ankrom's fifth grade students wove Indian sit-upons for all the students in the school. Mrs. Miga's third grade learned to embroider using the cross-stitch. They made a three-foot Liberty Bell to be placed on display.

The culminating activity was the serving of a Thanksgiving dinner. Each student in the second, third and fourth grades brought in a vegetable. The children cleaned, cut and cooked the vegetables to make a "sharing pot".

The first and sixth grades made cornbread for the dinner. Miss Deborah Matthews, the reading teacher, had her students make popcorn for each class. All the students in the building then dressed as Pilgrims and Indians for the day's activities.

Toward the end of the day, all the students at Corwin gathered and ate their meal together. Miss Jane Burman's sixth graders worked all week on the program they presented to the other students. The program included songs such as "America," "Doxology," "Come Be Thankful, People" and others. The sixth graders were dressed as Pilgrims for the program.

Four Appear In Common Pleas Court

During recesses of the jury trial which was finished Wednesday, the Pickaway County Common Pleas Court held trials for four other men charged with criminal offenses.

Michael Hoop appeared on a motion for early release of a prison term under the provisions of the shock probation statute. Hoop had been sentenced on charges of breaking and entering and grand theft.

Under the statute, first offenders can apply for early release after they have served from 30 to 90 days on their prison sentence. Judge William Ammer released Hoop and placed him on probation for three years.

The judge also granted a motion for shock probation to Timothy Morgan. Morgan had been sentenced to a prison term for two charges of breaking and entering. He was released and placed on five years probation.

Also appearing during the mid-week session of court was Jerry Keaton charged by the grand jury with escape. Keaton pleaded guilty to the offense and Judge Ammer ordered the adult parole authority to prepare a pre-sentence report on him.

Gerald Dozier Jr. was sentenced to a term of six months to five years on a charge of assault on a city police officer. He had previously pleaded guilty to the offense.

Court Hears Cases Against 8 Juveniles

Eight cases were completed in Pickaway County Juvenile Court last week by Judge Guy G. Cline including four traffic offenses.

Daniel A. McCain, 16, Route 1, Ashville, appeared on an affidavit charging him with operating a motor vehicle without a valid operator's license. Judge Cline suspended $5 of a $10 fine and suspended McCain's license for six months after he has completed driver's training and has received his license.

The court also granted permission for a 15-year-old girl to marry.

A 17-year-old Route 1, Amanda boy was placed on three years probation for charges of breaking and entering and grand theft.

Similar charges also brought three years probation to a 16-year-old Route 4 boy. He was also ordered to make restitution.

Joyce A. Owens, 17, Route 5, was cited into juvenile court for failure to yield the right of way. Judge Cline suspended her $10 fine and ordered her to attend traffic school.

During the week, one traffic case was transferred to Fayette County, the home county of the defendant.

A 16-year-old Route 1, South Bloomingville girl was placed in the temporary custody of her grandfather.

A final case before the court was a speeding charge against Mark Ellyson, 16, Route 2, Ashville. He had a $10 fine suspended and his license was suspended. The court modified the suspension order to allow Ellyson to drive to work and traffic school after obtaining liability insurance.
